Public ethics seminar clarifies boundaries

The boroughs of Mantoloking and Bay Head gained insight into their own governments' practices through a special joint ethics presentation last Friday, Oct. 9, held at Mantoloking Borough Hall.

The topic of ethics was at the forefront of the information session, and attendees sat through a series of example scenarios teaching the boundaries between ethical and not ethical behavior in the workplace.

The day's talks were led by William Kearns Jr., attorney for the New Jersey State League of Municipalities. Mr. Kearns said he holds sessions like this for groups throughout the state.
