Wednesday, June 23, 2010
Thomas Edison State College
101 W. State St.

Trenton, NJ 08601
Time: 9:00 a.m – 4:00p.m.

The Green Building Workshop is the next logical step in the NJRA RTI course offerings. Participants will gain a more in-depth knowledge of the commonly used terms “sustainable development” and “green building.” During this workshop, expert consultants and developers who are well-versed in sustainable design, construction, operations, and planning will identify ways to reduce the burden on the environment in terms of resources, land use, and air and water quality. The goal is to highlight innovative models and best practices from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

In addition, this workshop will provide an opportunity for lenders, business service providers and governmental agencies to share their resources and programs that can facilitate sustainable development practices. Participants will leave this workshop encouraged to plan, design, construct, and maintain buildings, neighborhoods, and cities that are more environmentally-friendly for everyone

*In light of the struggles that municipalities are facing due to budget cuts, NJRA RTI would like to offer a special 50% discount to Municipalities!!!!!!
