

①

~~Source~~
cc: Council via-email & hard copy.

8 Crenshaw Drive
Flanders, NJ 07836
July 8 2010,

RECEIVED
①

JUL 09 2010

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR &
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

David M. Scapicchio
Morris County Mayor
204 Flanders-Drakestown Road
Budd Lake, NJ 07828

Dear Mayor Scapicchio and members of the Town Council:

We are the founders LemonAID Mt. Olive. We would like to get involved in community service, and other fundraising activities this summer. Our idea to get involved came to us after visiting Flanders Park last week. We noticed that the park was not nearly as nice as it used to be. Weeds were growing everywhere, garbage was all over the place, our gazebo had disappeared and the vending machine was turned on its side and vandalized. We'd been going to the new Imagination Station park in Roxbury and couldn't help but notice how much nicer their park is than ours. When we came home, we brainstormed what we could do to help make our park nicer.

First, we went over to pull the weeds and clean up the garbage that was laying around. Later that night, we thought of the idea of doing some fundraising. We thought maybe we could raise money for a new shade shelter of some kind or to replenish the sand on our volleyball courts. We made a homemade lemonade stand out of things we had around the house, called some friends to see if they wanted to get involved, shopped for supplies and then asked local retailers (A&P and Shoprite) if we could set up outside their stores. Both said no but the manager of A&P graciously offered to provide us with all the crushed ice we needed for our stand. We've had our cooler filled there four times already.

LEMON-AID

We introduced ourselves to the community at Flanders Park on June 29th by offering free lemonade and accepting tips/donations. We offered a variety of lemonade drinks including: Classic, Pink, Sour Strawberry and Cosmic. By far, our most popular was Cosmic, a delicious mix of classic lemonade, secret syrup, tri-colored sugar sprinkles and a maraschino cherry on top. After two hours, however, we had only $22 in our donations can and it was getting unbearably hot in the sun, so we decided to relocate. We went to Roxbury Park and set up in front of the Imagination Station. It was much busier there and there is a lot of shade. In just a few hours, we served nine gallons of lemonade to park goers and had to make two additional runs for supplies. Once again, our Cosmic Lemonade was the customers' favorite. We collected $62 in tips/donations and got to talk to a lot of people about our ideas for making Flanders Park a nicer place. Most people were very supportive of our ideas. Since our first day, we visited Imagination Station again for an hour and we served five gallons of lemonade at the the Denville Fireworks show on July 4th.

We are giving you all of the money that we collected at our stand over the first week. All totalled we collected $144.81. We did not deduct for our expenses because we wanted to contribute some of our own money to the cause as well. We hope that our efforts will convince you that even though we are kids, we are capable of hard work and producing good results. We would like to continue fundraising for the township and/or Flanders Park but we realize that we will need the town's support if we are going to be able to make any real difference for our park or our community. Setting up in Flanders Park where there is not alot of foot traffic is just not profitable enough. We would be happy to discuss any ideas that you have and look forward to working with you to make our community a better place.

Sincerely,

Kayleigh Volpi, Ryan Volpi, Christopher Volpi
Kayleigh, Ryan, and Christopher Volpi

LEMON-AID

cc: Phil Tobey, Rob Greenbaum, Ray Perkins, Pat Walsh, Colleen Labow, Alex Roman, John Mania, John Dorsey, Esq.

LemonAID Group Shot!

Rebecca, Andrew, and Chris working the LemonAID Stand.

Before: Weeds

After: Weeds